PRISONER JUMPS OFF JAIL WALL

John Lee, Arrested Two Weeks ago for Stealing Chickens Escapes from County Jail while Others Play Games.

John Lee, arrested two weeks ago for stealing chickens, escaped from the Adams County jail about eleven o'clock this morning and up to the time of going to press had not been caught though Sheriff Fissel, Deputy George Fissel, Constables Wilson, Gordon and Shealer and a number of deputies at once started in pursuit.

The escape was the boldest and most daring ever attempted from the local prison. Sheriff Fissel had all of the prisoners out in the jail yard where some were pitching horse shoes and others playing base ball. Lee was not doing either while the others were busily engaged in their sports slipped into the corridor and put on his outer shirt.

He then went out and without being seen slipped around to the north-east corner of the jailyard out of sight of the other prisoners and Sheriff Fissel. It is believed that when he found he was not being watched he crawled up on some spouting to the low roof on a portion of the jail, that he then went on up to the main roof and dropped down to the wall fronting on High street. From there he is supposed to have walked over to the West wall from where he dropped into the yard of Mrs. Wible, the marks being there showing where he dropped.

He ran back through Mrs. Wible's yard and jumped over a fence into the alley sometimes known as "Wall Street" or "Gallows Avenue." He ran down this alley to the foot of the hill near the southeast corner of the old graveyard where he took to the fields in the direction of Culp's Hill and has not been heard from since.

As soon as he was found to be missing the other prisoners were all put into the corridor and the hunt started. All the local police and constables were quickly notified and an organized search instituted. The work of the searchers has not as yet met with any success.

NO BUILDING FOR 16 MONTHS

Gettysburg Public Building Cannot be Built for Sixteen Months. Bill Authorizing Building Made no Appropriation.

That the $100,000 public building in Gettysburg will not come for sixteen months is reported in a dispatch from Washington which says:

Discovery was made Thurs. that the Public Buildings Bill, carrying about $20,000,000 as it passed the Senate and House, does not carry any actual appropriation of money, but merely authorizes the purchase of sites and the erection of buildings. And there hangs a tale.

The bill originated in the House, and it was stated, it was generally understood that there was to be no immediate appropriation of money, although a number of the members worked ardently for the bill in the belief that their districts were to receive some benefit. In the Senate, however, many of the senators busied themselves in unusual effort for their states, believing that the bill provided for the early erection of public buildings.

It was explained Thursday by a statement from the House Committee on Appropriations that the superintending architect of public buildings was so far behind with his work that there was no use of appropriating money for any additional buildings for at least 16 months to come.

Late Thursday the Senate accepted the conference report on the bill, Chairman Scott, of the Senate committee, declaring that the bill was one of the best public buildings bills passed in a long time.

FIGHTING FOR RAILROAD SHOPS

Hanover Hears Gettysburg Wants Western Maryland Railroad Shops and at once Gets Busy. Offers Free Site to Railroad.

For some weeks a report has been circulated in Gettysburg that the car-shops of the Western Maryland railroad at Hanover are to be moved to Gettysburg. Efforts to substantiate these rumors have always proved fruitless though it was admitted that the Western Maryland had such a proposition under consideration.

From Hanover comes the news that the Hanover Merchants' Association has learned of the plans of the Western Maryland and has offered to the road a site for the shops which are now at a place which is too small for the rebuilding and enlarging of the shops and round house made necessary by the increased number of engines now in service on the company's lines.

Whether or not the offer of the Hanover merchants to furnish a site free of cost will be accepted is not stated. However, J. C. Carmichael, Engineer of Maintenance of Way of the Western Maryland was in Hanover Thursday and in company with citizens of that place inspected the proposed site offered by the Hanover Merchants' Association.

The Hanover Record Herald in commenting on the situation says: "The local association is to be congratulated on their prompt action, as by all means the car shops and round house should be maintained in this place, as they are as old as the railway itself. The location at the East End is admirably adapted for the purpose and nothing should be left undone to keep the railroad shops in Hanover."

BIGLERVILLE

MANY MAIL MEN ARE APPOINTED

Four Special Mail Carriers Appointed for Work at Maneuver Camp. Extra Clerks at the Post Office. Had Taken Examinations.

Arrangements for handling the huge amount of mail, which is expected here on account of the United States maneuver camp in July, have been completed and a large force of postal employees will have in charge that end of the camp business.

Three railway mail clerks have been assigned to the Gettysburg office to help out. They are John Waidlich, Carl Waidlich and John L. Schmitt, all of whom will be mailing clerks.

The post office station at the camp will be in charge of Calvin K. Gilbert who will be superintendent and will have as his assistant Russell Shoemaker. Earl T. Eicholtz will be sub-clerk in the town office.

There will be four mail carriers in the camp. They will be Harry A. Bucher, George E. Hartman, John H. Sachs and Jesse E. Snyder.

All of the new men employed from town passed the clerk-carrier examination in Gettysburg last winter and were placed, at that time, on the list from which the special force for this summer was chosen.

ON GETTYSBURG COMMISSION

Speaker Cannon has named Representatives Lefean, Tawney and Lamb as the House members of the Federal Commission to co-operate with the Pennsylvania Commission having charge of the arrangements for the fiftieth anniversary celebration of the battle of Gettysburg in 1913. Representative Tawney, of Minnesota, was placed on the Commission because he was born near Gettysburg. Representative Lefean's designation is due to the fact that Gettysburg is in his district, and Representative Lamb, of Virginia, because he is a Confederate veteran who took part in the three days' fight.

The House Committee on Military Affairs has made a favorable report on a bill appropriating $7500 for a monument on the field to commemorate the services of the Signal Corps in the historic fight. This is the only branch of the service that has not been thus honored.

KEPT WEDDING A SECRET

On January 22 in Washington, D. C., the Rev. Dr. John M. Schick united in marriage Prof. L. Dale Crunkleton, principal of the Littlestown public schools and Miss Anna Lefevre, a teacher in the schools of that town.

The secret of the wedding was well kept and this announcement will be the first knowledge that friends of the bride and groom in their own town will have of the event.

TO PROBE STEEL TRUST

Senate Adopts Resolution Providing For Investigation.

Washington, June 24.—The senate adopted the resolution introduced by Senator Borah, of Idaho, providing for an investigation of the steel trust. The resolution follows:

"That the department of commerce and labor, through the bureau of labor, be, and is hereby directed to investigate and report to the senate as early as possible as to the conditions of employment prevailing in the iron and steel industry of the United States, with the details concerning the wages paid, the hours of labor per day and the number of days' labor per week and the number employed."

Senator Smith, of South Carolina, was the only member to oppose the resolution. His protest was made because he thought the investigation should be made by the committee appointed to inquire into the causes of the high prices of commodities in general.

DROWNS WITH SON TRYING TO SAVE HIM

Mother Made Desperate Effort to Rescue Boy.

Reading, Pa., June 24.—Jacob, the nine-year-old son of Jacob Ori, while playing was drowned in a stone quarry near Molltown, this county. In an effort to save the child the mother also lost her life.

The lad had just received a small express wagon as a gift, and it was while playing with this that he fell into the quarry. His boy companion raised the alarm and the mother responded.

Without hesitancy she jumped into twenty feet of water and grabbed her son. She made a desperate effort to clutch the sides of the quarry, but the rough stones cut her hands, and with a despairing cry she sank with her boy in her arms. The bodies were recovered. The woman was forty years old.

RESENTS ATTACK ON CLIENT

Lee O'Neill Browne's Attorney Scores Prosecutor For Aspersions.

Chicago, June 24.—"It is hard to sustain a reputation; it is easy to sustain a character," declared Attorney P. H. O'Donnell when he resumed his argument in behalf of Lee O'Neill Browne in the graft cases.

Mr. O'Donnell was scoring State's Attorney Wayman for his attack on the character of the defendant.

"Does Mr. Wayman dare to say this man's reputation at Springfield is bad?" challenged Mr. O'Donnell, pointing at Browne.

"I said when I started in the case that it had the dollar mark on it, the same as goods in a department store; I say it still," retorted Mr. Wayman.

Two Hanged at Norristown.

Norristown, Pa., June 24.—Frank Chikarine and Nick Marling were hanged here for the murder of George Johnson, the Norristown township collector. ## MANY CAUSES OF HIGH LIVING COST

Lodge's Committee Makes Majority Report.

THEY BLAME MANY THINGS

Republican Probers Say Farm Products Soar Highest and That Wages Do Not Advance as Rapidly as Prices.

Washington, June 24.—The Republican idea of the causes of the great increases in the cost of living in the last decade was placed before the senate by Senator Lodge, chairman of the committee appointed several months ago to investigate the subject.

The Democratic members of the committee dissented vigorously from the findings of the majority and were given permission to employ an expert and prepare a minority report.

The majority of the committee found that of the many causes contributing to the advance in prices the following were most marked:

Increased cost of production of farm products, by reason of higher land values and higher wages.

Increased demand for farm products and food.

Shifting of population from food producing to food consuming occupations and localities.

Immigration to food consuming localities.

Reduced fertility of land resulting in lower average production or in increased expenditures for fertilization.

Increased banking facilities in agricultural localities, which enable farmers to hold their crops and market them to the best advantage.

Reduced supply convenient to transportation facilities of such commodities as timber.

Cold storage plants which result in preventing fluctuations of prices of certain commodities with the seasons, but by enabling the wholesalers to buy and sell at the best possible advantage, tend to advance prices.

Increased cost of distribution.

Industrial combination.

Organizations of producers or of dealers.

Advertising.

Increased money supply.

Over-capitalization.

Higher standard of living.

The foregoing findings were arrived at by measuring the prices of 157 commodities. These commodities were grouped and the advances noted for the different groups in the period from 1900 to 1909 inclusive. The general wholesale price level in the United States advanced in that period 14.5.

The groups show advances as follows:

Farm products, 29.8; food, etc., 19.7; lumber and building materials, 19.6; miscellaneous commodities, 14.7; clothing and clothing, 12.0; fuel and lighting, 6.9; house furnishing goods, 5.3; metals and implements, 3.6; A decline was shown for drugs and chemicals amounting to 2.9 per cent.

It is shown that the greatest advances have taken place in the products of the soil. The committee criticized the use of forests by saying that there had been a large consumption without any particular attempt to replace the timber.

The report states that in view of the fact that the increases have been so much greater in products coming either directly or indirectly from the farms than in any other line excepting iron products of the forests, the conclusion must be reached that the most important cause of the present advance is to be found in a study of farm conditions.

"Wages have not advanced as rapidly as have prices," says the report, "and practically all labor difficulties which have been the subject of mediation in the United States during the last two or three years have had as their basis the advanced cost of living."

It is shown that the advance in wages has been more rapid in the United States than in European countries.

$15,000,000 IN FAKE CURES

Annual Expenditure For Tuberculosis Medicines.

Boston, June 24.—Over $15,000,000 is annually poured into the coffers of those who exploit and advertise "fake" consumption cures, according to a statement issued by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

The report showed that for this vast sum the victims receive nothing in return, but are often permanently injured and in many cases deprived of the chance for a real cure.

District of Columbia is Growing.

Washington, June 24.—The population of the District of Columbia is 351,069, as compared with 278,718 in 1900 and 230,392 in 1890. According to the announcement of the director of the census the increase from 1900 to 1910, therefore is 52,351, or 18.8 per cent as compared with an increase for the preceding decade of 48,326, or 21 per cent. The city of Washington is considered, for census purposes, to be coextensive with the District of Columbia.

Caught the Fever.

An Irish policeman who was also something of a sportsman had been posted on a road near Dublin to catch the scorching motorist. Presently one came along at twenty miles an hour, and the policeman saw it pass without a sign. Next came a large motor traveling at forty miles an hour, and the eyes of the guardian of the public brightened. And then one passed at the rate of a mile a minute. "Begorra," said Pat, slapping his thigh, "that's the best of the lot!"

TAFT ELATED AT RECORD OF CONGRESS

Declares It Has Fulfilled Party Pledge.

Cincinnati, June 24.—In a signed statement sent to the Times-Star, his brother's paper, President Taft said: "I am elated at the legislation that has been enacted by this congress. It has fulfilled the pledges of the party. It is a great satisfaction to me that we have accomplished so much."

"It has been the custom in the past to try and fulfill party pledges during the term of the president elected, and we secured what we set out to get during the first regular session of congress."

"We now have the best railroad regulation law we ever had. The provisions for the supervision of capitalization were omitted, but this does not mean that they have been abandoned. Renewed effort to enact them will be made at the next session."

"I think the party in power has enacted legislation which will inure greatly to its benefit. It has kept its contract."

"The congress which is now closing its first regular session has done what I promised: the people to do, and the Republican party has a good record to take to the people in the coming elections."

Didn't Want Ducks. A woman who had always lived in the city moved into the country, and as a sort of recreation she decided to start a poultry farm, which she did with a barnyard hen and thirteen eggs from the village store.

Not having even the most elementary knowledge of poultry, she inquired of a neighbor how long eggs generally took to hatch. She received the reply: "Three weeks for chickens and four for ducks."

The neighbor met her some time afterward, and on being asked how the poultry farming was going on, she replied, with a lowered countenance: "Oh, I've finished with it. At the end of three weeks there were no chickens, so I took the hen off, as I didn't want ducks."

Whistler and His Model. James MacNeill Whistler once owned a female model $5 for sittings. She was a Philistine of the Philistines, who knew nothing of her patron's fame and was in no way impressed with his work. One day she told another artist that she had been sitting to a little Frenchman called Whistler, who jumped about his studio and was always complaining that people were swindling him and that he was making very little money. The artist suggested that if she could get any piece of painting out of Whistler's studio he would give her $50 for it. Although skeptical, the model decided to tell her "little Frenchman" of this too generous offer and selected one of the biggest and finest works in the studio.

"What did he say?" asked the artist who had made the offer when the model appeared in a state of great disorder and excitement and looking at most as if she had come second best out of a scrumage.

"He said: 'Fifty dollars! Good heavens! Fifty dollars!' And he got so mad—well, that's how I came in here like this."

CHARLTON ADMITS MURDER OF WIFE

Mystery of Lake Como Solved By His Arrest

KILLED HER IN QUARREL

Arrested in New York as He Landed From Steamer—Victim's Body Was Found in Trunk in Lake.

New York, June 24.—Porter Charlton, husband of Mrs. Mary Scott Castle Charlton, whose body was found stuffed in a trunk which was taken from Lake Como, Italy, recently, was arrested as he stepped from the steamer Princess Irene in Hoboken. Within a half hour he had confessed to the murder of his wife.

Charlton at first denied his identity, but after being given the "third degree" he admitted that he was the husband of Mrs. Charlton and made a signed statement to the Hoboken police.

Charlton's Signed Statement.
The following is the text of Charlton's confession:

"My wife and I lived happily together. She was the best woman in the world to me, but she had an ungovernable temper. So had I. We frequently quarreled over the most trivial matters, and her language to me was frequently so foul that I know she did not know the meaning of it.

"The night I struck her she had been quarreling with me. She was in the worst temper I had ever seen her in. I told her if she did not cease I would leave her and put a stop to it. She stopped for a little while and started again.

"I took a mallet which I had used to do some household repairs and struck her three times. I thought she was dead. I put the body in a trunk, in which I also threw the mallet.

"About 12 that night I moved the trunk from the house, dragged it to a small pier near the house, and threw it overboard. I remained at Malpensa the next day, and left the following night and went to Como, and from there to Genoa, where I took the steamer Irene three days later.

"The room where I killed her was an out-door sleeping apartment."

At the suggestion of an attorney, whose services he secured shortly after his arrival at the police station, Charlton added this postscript to his statement:

"I have been informed that C. K. Ispolatoff has been implicated, and I wish to state that this gentleman is absolutely guiltless. I have no defense to make and don't wish to."

Charlton was given the "third degree" by Chief of Police Hayes, of Hoboken, and several detectives. Before the confession was obtained it was stated by the police that Charlton became infuriated by the grueling to which he was being subjected and, springing to his feet, drew a revolver and tried to shoot Chief Hayes.

Charlton was instantly disarmed by the detectives before he could accomplish his purpose, and after he had been quieted down the young man, now a picture of abject despair, confessed to slaying his wife.

The C. K. Ispolatoff, to whom Charlton refers as having been suspected by the police of some knowledge of the tragedy, is presumably Constantine Ispolatoff, the Russian, who became acquainted with the Charltons while they occupied the villa on the shore of Lake Como, and who, following the discovery of the woman's body, was detained and examined by the authorities.

The Russian established to the satisfaction of the authorities that he knew nothing of the crime beyond what was known to everyone, and recently he was released.

The body of Mrs. Mary Scott Castle Charlton was found packed in a trunk which was taken from Lake Como near the village of Moltrasio by fishermen on June 10. The woman, with her husband, Porter Charlton, had occupied a villa on the lake front, leased by them some time before. At the time the woman's body was recovered Porter Charlton could not be found.

The Italian police have insisted that Charlton was alive and have directed their energies to locating the young man.

Will Be Tried in Italy.

Washington, June 24.—At the office of the counselor of the state department it was said that Porter Charlton must naturally be tried in Italy, where the crime of murdering his wife was committed. The fact that he is an American citizen in no way whatever tends to relieve him from trial in the country where the crime took place.

Extradition papers for his return to Italy will be honored here. Nothing will be done in his behalf by the United States government, except to see that he receives a fair trial, which the state department is sure will be accorded him.

Taft to Attend Grand Army Camp.

NICOTINE FATAL TO BABY

Infant Chews Butt of Father's Cigarette and Dies.

Philadelphia, June 24.—Total nicotine poisoning in the case of a baby eleven months old was reported to the coroner's office. It is the first on record of nicotine killing so young a child.

The dead child is Walter Willis, of 250 North Eleventh street. The mother placed him in a chair near a table. While his mother was out of the room the baby reached over and picked up a cigarette butt his father had left on the edge of the table. Before the mother returned the baby had chewed up the cigarette and swallowed it.

An hour later little Walter was taken violently ill. Dr. J. M. Rosenbloom was summoned. He applied a stomach pump and learned the cause of the child's illness. Despite all efforts to save the baby's life he died two hours later.

SLEW JEALOUS WOMAN WHO ATTACKED HIM

Confesses He Cut Throat of Alice Litten.

Cumberland, Md., June 24.—Harry C. Noland, arrested on suspicion of having murdered Alice Brown Litten, whose body was found in the woods below South Cumberland with her throat cut, made a complete confession of the murder, the police authorities stated.

The tragedy, Noland averred, was the sequel of a quarrel. He declared the girl threatened him and assailed him with stones.

Noland said he spent Tuesday evening with the young woman at the home of her parents, where drinks were served. The pair quarreled over another girl. When he left the house, Noland said Mrs. Litten followed him out and the quarrel was renewed. He coming furious at the mention of the other girl's name, Alice, Noland said attempted to strike him with rocks.

He checked her and threw her to the ground, then drew his knife and cut her throat twice and fled.

The slain woman was eighteen years old. She was married at the age of fourteen to Charles F. Litten, with whom she is said to have lived but one day.

AVIATOR INJURED

Captain Cody Seriously Hurt When His Biplane Falls.

London, June 24.—Captain S. F. Cody, the aviator, who has been conducting experiments for the British war department, is in a dangerous condition as the result of an accident.

The captain was trying a new biplane at Aldershot, when a gust of wind caught the machine and dashed it to the ground. The machine was wrecked. Captain Cody was so badly hurt that his injuries are regarded as very serious.

Captain Cody was an American, but took out naturalization papers as a British citizen in order to fulfill his engagement with the British war office.

Captain Cody was pinned beneath the wreckage of the machine. When extricated he was unconscious. His face was covered with blood. He is suffering also from severe injuries to the head.

TAFT WINS IN ALL DAY FIGHT

Defeats Class Legislation Favorable to Labor.

RAILROAD MEN PROTEST

The President Declares the Workingman Should Only Ask Equality Before the Law and Is Entitled to No More.

Washington, June 24.—The action of the house of representatives in rejecting by a vote of 138 to 130 from its labor amendment to the sundry civil bill marked the successful termination of an all-day fight by President Taft against what he termed class legislation of an improper sort, and apparently removed the last real obstacle in the way of an adjournment of congress within the next few days.

President Taft bent every energy toward the defeat of the house amendment which proposed to exempt labor unions from the operation of the Sherman anti-trust law. He threw his whole influence into the fight, sending for several scores of representatives and urging them to defeat the provision.

Mr. Taft declared that if it cost him the support of every laboring man in the country he would not approve such a provision of law. The laboring man, he believed, asked only equality before the law, and was entitled to no more. When informed of the result of the struggle the president made no attempt to conceal his gratification.

Telegram From Brotherhood.

Incidentally the president sent a long telegram to the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, meeting at St. Paul, in which he outlined his views on the matter. The telegram was in response to a message of protest from the convention. For several days past the White House has been bombarded with letters and telegrams from labor organizations in favor of the house amendment. The messages made public were as follows:

"St. Paul, Minn., June 22.

"The President—Press reports indicate that you favor using the people's money to prosecute labor in their efforts to better conditions. The 788 delegates attending the twelfth biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen at St. Paul instruct me to protest against this unjust policy.

"W. S. CARTER.

"President Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen."

The President's Reply.

"W. S. Carter, President Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, St. Paul:

"Your dispatch of June 22 received, in which you say that press reports indicate that I favor using the people's money to prosecute labor in their efforts to better conditions, and you protest against such a policy. I presume you refer to the proposition now before congress, that money appropriated for fiscal year 1911 for enforcement of anti-trust laws and acts to regulate commerce shall no part of it be expended in the prosecution of conspiracies in the nature of boycotts to increase wages, shorten hours or better the condition of labor.

"The supreme court has decided that such a boycott is a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, and this proposal is an attempt to withhold the means of prosecuting that law when it is violated by a particular class thus to be made privileged. I am entirely opposed to such class legislation. If it were proposed to amend the language of the Sherman anti-trust law itself so as somewhat to narrow its scope that would present a proper question for consideration, but so long as the present anti-trust law remains upon the statute books an attempt to modify its enforcement so as to render immune any particular class of citizens, rich or poor, employers or employees, is improper legislation and in my judgment ought to be opposed by you brotherhood.

"The laboring man and the trades unionist, if I understand him, asks only equality before the law. Class legislation and unequal privilege, though expressly in his favor, will in the end work no benefit to him or to society.

"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

Girl Gets $17,500 For a Leg.

New York, June 24.—It took a jury before Justice Gavegan in the supreme court only a short time to award $17,500 to Alice Philpot, a waitress, who sued the Fifth Avenue Coach company for the loss of her right leg. This is one of the largest verdicts for the loss of a limb ever obtained in New York county. While Miss Philpot was standing at Forty-fifth street and Fifth avenue on Sept. 24, 1908, the wheels of an automobile bus skidded and the rear end struck the woman, causing such injuries that amputation was necessary.

Free Liver Remedy

It is well to stop a physical ailment at the first signs of its approach, and that is especially true of liver trouble, which can eventually give rise to so many serious complications. Many have liver trouble and imagine it is indigestion, and hence take the wrong remedy.

When the liver does not store up sufficient gastric juices it becomes sluggish, and in this way disturbs the stomach and bowels, with which it is supposed to work in harmony. Then comes the sallow complexion, the pimply face, the dull pain in the forehead, the thinning of the blood, etc. A very quick and sensible way to stop the trouble as well as to cure it is by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which contains ingredients especially intended to promote the activity of the liver.

Among the many thousands who have written the doctor about the results achieved with his remedy, and who are glad to make the facts public so that others can help themselves, are Mr. J. A. Kennedy, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. S. A. La Rue of Smith's Grove, Ky., and many others.

These, like thousands of others, started the use of Syrup Pepsin with a sample. If you will send your name and address you can also obtain a free trial bottle. This will prove to you that liver trouble is promptly cured with this remedy or free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 1851 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Keep an incubator lamp in perfect condition takes but a little time each day, but the lives of your family and safety of your property depend on whether you are careless or careful in the matter.

Shut Him Off.

One day Mark Twain was being shaved by a very talkative barber and was forced to listen to many of the barber's anecdotes. Stopping to stop his razor and prepared with brush in hand to commence again, the barber said: "Shall I go over it again?" "No, thanks," drawled Mark. "It's hardly necessary. I think I can remember every word."

THE GETTYSBURG NATIONAL BANK'S NEW BUILDING

"The Bank of Gettysburg was chartered as a State Bank April 29, 1814.

It was to have a capital of 7,000 shares of stock, of the par value of $50 a share, making its capital stock when paid in full $350,000.00. Its first Board of Directors met May 26, 1814.

Alexander Cobean was elected the first President and John B. McPherson the first Cashier. The business of the bank was conducted in the house of the cashier from the day the bank opened until April, 1909.

Nov. 16, 1864, the stockholders voted to change from a State to a National Bank. The new association is the Gettysburg National Bank.

The capital stock is $145,150, or 2,903 shares of the par value of $50 a share.

The charter is dated Nov. 1864. The first election was held Jan. 10, 1865, and William McSherry, Henry Wirt, Wm. D. Himes, Wm. Young, James J. Wills, George Swope, Lewis M. Motter, Marcus Sampson and David Kendlehart were elected the first Board of Directors. George Swope was elected President and J. D. Carson, Cashier.

The new bank is built on the lot of ground on which was located the original bank building. The lot fronts 60 feet on York street and runs back to an alley 181½ feet. The ground was owned by John B. McPherson from 1814 to 1858, when it was purchased by the bank.

The new bank building is 45 feet front, 86 feet deep and 32 feet high to the apex. The exterior is built of Troy White Granite from New Hampshire. The front is four cut finish and the sides rock face.

The style is colonial, which is carried out in every detail, as also in its furnishings.

The building sets 7 feet back from the building line and 7 feet from the adjoining properties. The approach is by a portico. The portico is 25 feet long and 8 feet wide, and is formed by four shafts of white granite—monoliths having bases 2 feet 6 inches in diameter and being 22 feet 6 inches high and weighing 7 tons each. It is finished with a ceiling of portier panelled copper. The front doors are solid bronze—6 feet wide, 10 feet 6 inches high and weigh 500 pounds each.

There are two large windows in the front and four on each side 4 by 8 feet. The entrance to the building is through a vestibule of mahogany and glass—having two doors opening into the corridors. The front corridor is 9 feet 6 inches and the side corridors are 7 feet wide. The interior height of the ceiling is 22 feet. The working space of the bank is 27 by 35 feet.

The walls of the corridors have a base of Verde Antique Vermont green marble and wainscoting of 7 feet of Alabama Cream marble, with a cornice of 9 inches of South African mahogany. The floors are made of Grey Knoxville, Tennessee marble of one foot square blocks.

The exterior of the counters is made of the same marble as the side walls and supports the grill work, which is of brush brass and finished with opaline glass, mahogany pillars and cornice. The counters are of mahogany. The corridors are furnished with four glass endorsing desks, two solid mahogany writing tables and suitable chairs. There are four mahogany writing desks for the officials of the bank in the working space.

The Cashier's room is in the working space, is furnished handsomely and is 9 by 15 feet.

The President's room is near the Cashier's and well furnished. The rear part of the first floor has a gentlemen's waiting room—14 by 11 feet, clerks' room—8 by 11 feet and a Ladies' Reception Room 14 by 11 feet. These rooms are all handsomely furnished and each has its own toilet. On the same floor there are two coupon rooms, one public and one private telephone booth—with local and long distance phones.

The vault is 17 x 14 feet. It is made of concrete, 21 inches thick, lined with steel plates 1½ inches thick and covered on the exterior with Alabama cream marble. Each department is separate. The bank vault has a steel safe with double combination locks, requiring two persons to open it. The lock box department has 400 lock boxes which can only be opened when the owner of the box and the bank officials are both present with their keys. The owner is the only person who has access to the box and a private room is given him to examine his papers. The boxes are free to patrons of the bank and the owner retains the key in his care. The inner doors of the vault are securely locked and the outer doors are 7 inches thick, having time locks with the latest improvements. The vaults were built by the York Safe and Lock Company. They are a combination of security, art and science. To the right side of the vault a marble stairway leads to the second floor, over the rear of the bank.

On the second floor there is a committee room—15x16 feet, a hall, a coat room and the Directors' room—21x17 feet. The Board Room is beautifully furnished. The mahogany mantle and Directors' table are worth a visit. The balcony on the second floor gives a charming view of the corridors and working space. The electric and gas fixtures are in keeping with the building and furniture and are made of brush brass.

The floors of the working space and rooms are concrete, covered with maple.

The building, the furniture, the fixtures and everything about the bank impresses the visitor with its usefulness, solidity, harmony and good taste.

The officers take great pleasure in having everybody come to see their new bank building. The bank took possession of its new bank last Thursday and business began in the new building last Friday, June 10. You will be cordially welcomed and shown through the new building. It will be a pleasant visit. Come and see it.

The Building Committee was Wm. McSherry, Esq., Donald P. McPherson, Esq., and Walter H. O'Neal, M. D.

The architect was Herman Miller. W. H. Johns was the general contractor.

The officers of the bank are:—Wm. McSherry, President; Thos. G. Neely, Vice President; D. P. McPherson, Counsel; E. M. Bender, Cashier; J. W. Kendlehart, Teller and Bookkeeper; H. C. Picking, Discount Clerk; Irvin L. Taylor, Paying Teller; Chas. W. Stock, Receiving Teller; Reuben Rupp, Janitor.

The Directors are:—Wm. McSherry, Lawyer; John A. Swope, Physician; Thos. G. Neely, Gentleman; H. P. Bigham, Gentleman; Robert M. Wirt, Bank President; D. P. McPherson, Lawyer; N. C. Trout, Physician; C. L. Longsdorf, Bank President; Walter H. O'Neal, Physician.

COACHED AT A COURTING

By HARRY VAN AMBERG
Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

It was an afternoon in August. I was sitting on the Polands' piazza overlooking the ocean. Mrs. Poland was lounging beside me in a wicker chair. She is a good friend of mine. Mrs. Poland, although her husband and I were chums before they were married. She has never been at all jealous of me—something unusual in such cases. She invites me to her cottage every summer and is good enough to say that she would not consider a party complete without me.

I tell her I'm never complete without a party.

Mrs. Poland has a hobby. It is matchmaking. She tried to match me several times and always failed. The reason, she said, was that I did not understand women.

"I have a girl for you," she said. "I thought you had given me up."

"I have so far as your management is concerned. This time I wish you to leave your part of the affair to me."

"Now you're getting down to something practical. Who is the lady?"

"She comes tomorrow—Miss Annabel Vail. She is pretty, intelligent, stylish and has some means of her own, though not much."

"Very well. So long as you keep me instructed I'll do anything you like. But be it understood that I'm to have no headwork to do on my own account. You understand?"

"Perfectly."

Miss Vail arrived as expected. She was all Mrs. Poland had claimed for her. On the afternoon of her arrival Mrs. Poland informed me that she expected me to drive with her guest. The carriage would be at the door at 4 o'clock. I told her I would be charmed to drive with Miss Vail if she thought the young lady could endure me without other company. We drove two hours and returned in time to dress for dinner. During the evening Mrs. Poland asked me how I liked Miss Vail, and I told her I had been much pleased.

"I doubt it," she said. "A man who is much pleased with a woman can find plenty to say to her. Miss Vail has told me that you didn't say anything but 'Yes' and 'No.'"

"I was always a good listener."

A sailing party was arranged for a day's outing on the water in Poland's yacht. Mrs. Poland instructed me before starting to devote myself almost exclusively to Miss Vail. My motto was "obey orders if you break owners."

Miss Vail was very seasick, and I escorted her to the side of the vessel and held her head. She motioned me away, but I clung to the job. Then, when she sank back into a reclining chair, considering that she was ill I concluded that I must do all the talking myself. I talked till she told me if I would only go away and let her alone she would feel much relieved.

Mrs. Poland that evening told me very impatiently that I didn't know how to make myself agreeable to a girl, but it was impossible for any one to teach me.

"Haven't I done all you have told me to do?" I asked, very much crestfallen. "Goodness gracious, do you expect your coach to follow you about to tell you when to talk and when to keep silent? Must you be worked like the figures in a Punch and Judy show?"

"From what you say Miss Vail has not been especially impressed with me."

"I wouldn't say so, except that it is all up with your suit, but she says you're the most aggravating man she ever met."

"Can't we wipe off the slate and begin all over?"

"You'd be the same!"

"Idiot!"

Mrs. Poland was silent. She was scolding me as she would scold one of her own children whom she dearly loved. There was nothing more to be said by either of us, so we dropped the subject.

Bridge was the game for the evening, and in order to show Mrs. Poland that I was willing to do all in my power to meet her wishes I invited Miss Vail to be my partner. She was very stupid at cards, and when she trumped my tricks, although I said nothing, I could not help looking grave. This she interpreted as condemnation and after finishing a rubber arose and left the table. Mrs. Poland was watching us and as soon as we were alone said to me:

"What did you scold her for?"

"Scold her? I didn't say a word."

"But you looked it."

"I was discouraged. I made no reply. You needn't try any more to please me. I give it up."

The next day Mrs. Poland was very cross with me. I asked her if I had offended further. She said that I had not, but Miss Vail was so offended with me that she was intending to cut short her visit.

"That's too bad," I replied. "Not for the world would I consent to remain your guest after having driven a guest of yours from your house. I beg of you tell Miss Vail that it is I who am going. Let her remain."

"Oh, tell her yourself. I'm tired of the business."

I invited Miss Vail to go down on the beach with me. We remained there all the morning. When we returned Mrs. Poland asked:

"Which is to go?"

"Neither," I replied. "We're engaged."

WHERE THERE IS SO MUCH SMOKE

There is Always Some Fire.

When people talk about one thing and keep on talking as they do about the discovery that created so much newspaper comment in Fort Wayne and other cities during the past summer, even though many reports may be exaggerated, there must be some merit in the discovery, and when people spend their money for a thing and then buy more of it, proof of merit becomes so convincing that it becomes the duty of every person in need of Root Juice to go to the drug store and get a bottle of this much talked of remedy. Root Juice cures rheumatism and catarrh because it puts the filtering machines of the body to work and causes them to filter the impurities of the blood. Root Juice cures stomach and bowel troubles because it removes irritated and ulcerated conditions from the mucous linings and causes a natural flow of digestive fluids. Root Juice is so good for female weakness because it tones and heals the organs that make and filter blood.

Good, rich blood will nourish and strengthen every weak part of the body. Root Juice is sold for one dollar a bottle, or three bottles for two dollars and a half at the People's drug store.

Quick Witted.

A number of years ago, when the then Chicago Record was placing its foreign correspondents, George Ade was sent abroad by Victor P. Lawson for the purpose of selecting the best man he could find. Ade did all right until he got into Serbia. There he found all the newspaper men in jail for political offenses. He was in a quandary, so he cabled to Mr. Lawson: "Newspaper men all in jail. Press censor very strict."

Lawson promptly cabled back: "Make press censor correspondent." And Ade did it.

His First Train Ride.

During the early hours of Sunday morning a long and lank native boarded Frisco train No. 104 for his first ride on the cars, his destination being Kansas City. He was decidedly nervous, but was determined not to show it and attempted to cultivate an air of familiarity with his surroundings. He sought a position in the middle of the chair car, placed his grip on the floor and, standing stiffly, braced himself against the side of one of the plush chairs.

"Won't you have a seat, sir?" asked the porter.

"Nope," the young man answered. "Dad cuts n' hair, an' I shave m' self."
